Man... total fail. Nobody has voted a "Like" so far for the new theme...

There's something about this P2 theme that I like. Maybe it's because the default font is Helvetica Neue, or maybe it's the Twitter-inspired look and feel. But I was just alerted to the fact that this theme doesn't scale well when viewed on the iPhone; you can't double-tap to zoom in and out.
Bugger.
I'll leave this on for a couple of days and see if this cannot-zoom-in-iPhone problem bugs me or not. Considering how I love of only my iPhone these days, it probably will.

What do you think of this new blog theme?

I like it.

I dislike it.

You meet a girl: shy, unassuming. If you tell her she's beautiful, she'll think you're sweet, but she won't believe you. She knows that beauty lies in your beholding. And sometimes that is enough. But there's a better way. You show her she is beautiful. You make mirrors of your eyes, prayers of your hands. It is hard, very hard, but when she truly believes you... Suddenly the story she tells herself in her own head changes. She transforms. She isn't seen as beautiful. She is beautiful, seen.

—Patrick Rothfuss, The Name of The Wind

lovely shots, like #1.
by the way, the photos have this vintage texture, is that due to some settings on your iPhone camera?

Some of these shots were tweaked with iPhone apps, and some were hand-tweaked on the desktop.
